

LG RETAIL PERFORMANCE DASHBOARD

(Retail execution and competitive performance review)

Dashboard takeaway: LG has a meaningful retail presence across 57 audited stores, but the competitive comparison points to a clear opportunity to improve sell-out conversion and in-store execution.

INSIGHTS

- LG achieved 371 units of sell-out, with an overall LG sell-out share of 42%, indicating that competitors have a stronger overall sales position.
- FDR is LG's strongest-performing category with 130 units, followed by Soundbar at 126 units and Dishwasher at 115 units.
- Competitors outperform LG across all three categories, with the largest sell-out gap in Dishwasher, followed by Soundbar.
- Competitor display presence is higher than LG across all three product categories, indicating a clear visibility gap at the retail level.
- West Delhi has the highest LG sell-out, followed by South Delhi and North Delhi.
- The average retail execution score is 51.22, showing considerable scope for improving overall store-level execution.

RECOMMENDATIONS

- Increase LG display presence in stores where competitor visibility is significantly higher.
- Prioritize Dishwasher and Soundbar for stronger in-store promotion and conversion activities because of their larger competitive sell-out gaps.
- Leverage FDR's stronger performance by identifying and replicating the successful retail practices used in this category.
- Strengthen promoter execution through better product knowledge, hygiene, engagement and regular performance monitoring.
- Focus corrective actions on low-performing stores and regions rather than applying the same strategy across all outlets.
- Conduct regular retail audits to track display availability, competitive presence, sell-out and execution score over time.

Overall takeaway: LG's strongest immediate opportunity is to close the retail-execution and visibility gap, particularly in categories where competitors are winning sell-out. FDR can be used as the stronger-performing category to guide corrective action elsewhere.
